Why Lisbon

LISBON FOOTBALL
YOUTH CUP
2017

If you were to take a poll, many would include Lisbon on their list of favourite places. It's small yet immensely charming. Lisbon is a picturesque port city, characterized by romantic cobblestone streets, mosaic sidewalks, rolling hills and pastel houses. It's also a diverse city, blending a range of cultures. The oldest part of the city, the Alfama quarter, still retains its medieval feel. Lisbon is not stuck in the past however, and it's a city that breathes football. Lisbon is the birthplace of Portugal's best footballing talent. It hosted the 2014 UEFA Champions League Final, at the home stadium of the Portuguese club Benfica, Estádio da Luz, which was rebuilt in 2003 to host five matches of UEFA Euro 2004, including the final. The Portuguese capital also hosted the 2005 UEFA Cup Final at the Estádio José Alvalade, home of Benfica's local rivals Sporting CP.
